More GP appointments on your doorstep as Sunny Meed Surgery grows at Goldsworth Park

Good news for Goldsworth Park residents: Sunny Meed Surgery is taking on more clinical rooms at Goldsworth Park Health Centre on Denton Way, bringing more GP appointments and care closer to home.

Sunny Meed already runs a branch at the health centre, alongside its main surgery on Heathside Road and its Greenfield branch in Old Woking. Once the new rooms are ready, the extra space will allow the practice to offer more appointments and clinics at Goldsworth Park.

The practice is welcoming new patients, and you don't need to live within a particular area to join. Anyone can register, including people who live outside the practice's usual area, who just need to complete a short form.

Practice Manager Richard Morgan-Jones said: "We're really pleased to be growing our team at Goldsworth Park. Having more space here means local families can see a GP closer to home, and we'd love to welcome new patients from across the area."

To register with Sunny Meed Surgery, visit sunnymeedsurgery.nhs.uk/services/register-as-a-patient, call 01483 766699 or ask at reception at any of the practice's three sites.

What patients say on Google

"I have just joined this surgery. The transition from my previous Dr's to this one has been so easy. The online application was easy to follow."

"I moved to Sunny Meed and find them very good. I can always get an appt and the drs there have really looked after me."

"Had a medication question which I raised via the website. Received a call back within a few hours… Outstanding care!"

Views from a New Trustee

Just to introduce myself, Liz Wilkinson, an extremely new Trustee to your Goldsworth Park Community Association. You may or may not recognise my name but I do make regular contributions to the Natural Goldsworth Park Facebook page.

I have lived (and worked) in Goldsworth Park for too many years than I care to mention and I feel very lucky that I live on a very large housing estate that boasts its own lake, a wood, a 'work in progress' Wildflower Meadow and the rest of the amenity areas that go with it. Hopefully these areas mean as much to the whole of this community as they mean to me. This is one of the main reasons that I volunteered to become a Trustee in order to help to protect and progress these vital areas with all the flora and fauna that they hold. I hope I can.

Another reason I applied is that I recently attended the emergency GPCA meeting which had been called to try to recruit new volunteer Trustees in order for the GPCA to continue to run, as the last existing Trustee was wishing to step down. Unfortunately, there were not very many people expressing an interest in applying and as I felt that it would be such a dreadful shame for the whole community if it were to collapse, I put myself forward too. We are still short of Trustees and a Treasurer so if anyone out there reading this thinks that they would like to put themselves forward to help then please do!! The GPCA really needs some younger and enthusiastic people to give it the boost it needs.

Liz

Woking Youth Group

Woking Youth Secures National Lottery Boost to Keep Free Youth Clubs Running in Knaphill and Lakeview

Grassroots charity Woking Youth has been awarded £17,633 in vital funding from The National Lottery Community Fund.

We set up Woking Youth as two local youth workers who saw first-hand just how desperately our area needed free, open-access youth clubs. Our mission has always been simple: to offer long term support to local young people, no matter what situation they find themselves in. We give them safe spaces to hang out, try purposeful activities, and connect with positive role models.

In a climate where raising funds for charities is genuinely tough, this funding is a massive relief and a real lifeline for our community. This grant means we can keep our regular weekly drop-in sessions running without interruption:

- Mondays (7:00 PM – 9:00 PM): Drop-in at Woking Youth Arts Centre, Knaphill
- Wednesdays (6:30 PM – 8:30 PM): Drop-in at Lakeview Community Centre

Anyone aged 11-19 is welcome. Sessions are free and there is no complicated prior paperwork, young people can simply turn up on the night, though parents or carers will need to complete a consent form when they register. It's all about giving local teenagers a warm, positive space to unwind, make friends, and chat through whatever's on their mind with youth workers who are always in their corner.

One of the young people who comes to our sessions shared: "Having somewhere to go means everything to us. You know you're always welcome, they actually listen to what you're dealing with, and help you work out what to do."

With our sessions secured for the year ahead, we're also always on the lookout for friendly, enthusiastic volunteers to join our team. Whether you can spare a couple of hours a month or want to get involved every week, we'd love to have you. You don't need previous youth work experience, we provide full training, DBS checks, and plenty of ongoing support so you feel confident making a real difference to young people in your local community.

Goldsworth Care at 25

One of Surrey's Good Neighbour schemes

For the past 25 years, Goldsworth Care has been providing transport for residents of Goldsworth Park to medical and other appointments and offering a variety of services such as shopping and helping with form filling. This milestone was celebrated by users of the service and volunteers alike at an afternoon tea on 16 July where they tucked into sandwiches, cakes, scones with jam and cream, and strawberries, courtesy of Waitrose.

One of the volunteers has been with Goldsworth Care right from the beginning, first as a driver and now as a duty officer. No gold watch for Val but she is happy with the thanks of all concerned for 25 years of dedicated service.

Service users enjoying their tea

If you think you would benefit from the services offered, call 07751 801587 and speak to a duty officer.

Goldsworth Care would not exist without volunteers to answer the phone, deal with the admin and drive the clients; the commitment is not too onerous – answering the phone on 3 or 4 mornings a month and following up, or driving once or twice a week mainly to local destinations but possibly as far as Ashford Hospital. If you would like to be a part of the team, come along to one of the regular meetings on the second Wednesday of each month in Andy's Café, Goldsworth Park Centre or call 07751 801587 for more information.

Goldsworth Park Scout Group

1st Goldsworth Park Scout Group 2026 Winterer Update

This time our article focuses on one of our Young Scouts who has been with 1st Goldsworth Park Scout Group since joining Beaver Scouts. She is now looking forward to 2027 attending the World Scout Jamboree in Poland... here is Keziah's report:

Local Scout turns artwork into a ticket to the 2027 World Scout Jamboree

Young fundraiser seeks community support to join Scouts from around the world in Gdańsk, Poland

Local Scout Keziah is one of only six young people selected from the Woking District to attend the 26th World Scout Jamboree in Gdańsk, Poland, from 30 July to 8 August 2027. She is combining creativity with determination to raise more than £4,000 for the opportunity.

The World Scout Jamboree is one of the world's largest outdoor educational events for young people. Held approximately every four years, it brings together Scouts aged 14 to 17 from across the global movement to camp, learn, exchange cultures, build friendships and develop leadership skills.

The 2027 gathering will be hosted by the Polish Scouting and Guiding Association in Gdańsk. Its motto, "Bravely," is intended to inspire courage, collaboration and engagement, drawing particular meaning from Gdańsk's historic connection with the Solidarity movement.

Each of the six selected Scouts is undertaking a unique fundraising project. Keziah's project centres on her artwork: she sells original pieces at local events in Goldsworth Park and hopes to expand into local art shops. Her range includes greetings cards and larger paintings, with commissions also available. Landscapes and animals are her main subjects.

The fundraising supports not only the individual journey but also the wider aim of making international Scouting accessible. The official Jamboree website highlights "Solidarity Operation," a fund that helps Scouts from around the world take part.

Other members of the unit are contributing through their own imaginative projects, including public singing and band performances, as well as repairing and selling older cars.

At the Jamboree, participants will join a wide-ranging educational programme centred on adventure, teamwork, cultural exchange, global citizenship and care for the environment. Everyday camp life will also require Scouts to work together on practical tasks such as planning meals and buying food for their units.

"Going to the World Scout Jamboree would be an amazing opportunity to meet Scouts from around the world, learn about their cultures and challenge myself. Every card, painting and commission brings me closer to Poland, and I am very grateful for the community's support," said Keziah.

Local residents, businesses and art shops can support the campaign by purchasing cards or paintings, commissioning an artwork, offering a sales space, or helping to promote future fundraising events.

Looking forward, we have many Young People on our waiting list and we can only expand if we have more adult support / Leaders on board. So....If you want to give scouting a try please reach out to our Group Volunteer Lead, Dave for an initial chat with no commitment needed, who knows where it will take you.

Goldsworth Park Girlguiding

Goldsworth Girlguiding has been busy over the past few months, with plenty of hard work, exciting adventures and lots of well-deserved badges awarded!

We kicked things off with a fantastic district camp, welcoming 93 people for a fun-filled weekend packed with crafts, activities and outdoor adventures. The Brownies and Guides have enjoyed a pirate-themed event on the River Thames, making the most of the water-based fun and activities.

Our Guides headed to Wembley Arena for a big gig, travelling up to London by train for an exciting adventure. The Brownies enjoyed a special takeover evening at Brooklands.

We also came together to take part in the Remembrance Day parade at Goldsworth Park on the 8th November.

There is plenty more to look forward to! We have already sold over 130 tickets for the Woking pantomime, our Brownies are looking forward to a cinema screening of Hexed, and plans are underway for a sleepover and more exciting activities in the early part of next year.

Would you like to join the fun? If you have a girl aged 4–14 who would love to make friends, learn new skills and enjoy lots of adventures, we would love to hear from you!

Please get in touch at gpbrownies@hotmail.co.uk to find out more about joining Girlguiding.

Trefoil

Goldsworth Park Trefoil Guild has had a busy and enjoyable summer, with lots of fun activities and opportunities to get together.

Our activities have included a strawberries and cream afternoon, birthday parties, curling, a quiz afternoon, bingo and an evening of Harvest games. Looking ahead our December meeting will be rounded off with an entertaining evening of music.

Would you like to join in the fun?

We meet on the first Friday of every month at the Generation Centre, from 7.30pm to 9.30pm. New members are always welcome!

For more information, or if you'd like to join us, please email: surreywesttrefoil@gmail.com

Natural Goldsworth Park Update

GOING BATTY

Local volunteers took part in a bat survey around the Meadow and lakeside during June to update the 2018 survey carried out by the Surrey Bat Group

Using detectors and a recorder kindly loaned by the Bat Group, we walked a route around the Meadow, through the woodland and along the north bank of the lake using ultrasound detectors, looking for bats in flight and recording their ultrasound calls. In addition, the Bat Group positioned a static recorder in the woodland which was left in place for two weeks.

The evening was a great success. Many bats were seen and heard on the detectors, particularly in the north-west corner of the Meadow and along the lake path. In 2018, at least seven species were found (Myotis species are difficult to identify by sound alone so there may have been more than seven). Only 17 species breed in the UK, so the Bat Group considers this quite a rich bat diversity.

This time six of the species found in 2018 were identified- Soprano Pipistrelle, Common Pipistrelle, Serotine, Noctule, Natterer's and Nathusius's.

A further bat walk took place at the beginning of September. Again, Surrey Bat Group loaned us detectors and a recorder. This also proved very successful. We recorded almost constant activity over the lake and around the woodland. Most was from Common and Soprano Pipistrelle bats but we also detected Daubenton's bats which were noted in the 2018 survey but not in our June follow up.

The survey and bat walk confirm the importance of the Lake and woodland as foraging areas for bats.

I hope to arrange another bat walk next year, probably in May or June. If you would be interested in attending, please keep an eye on the NGP Facebook page for information.

WILDLIFE SURVEYS

In addition to the bat survey, Natural Goldsworth Park's team of specialists has been updating the various plant and wildlife surveys conducted between 2016 and 2018. The results have been sent to Surrey Wildlife Trust to support the nomination of the Meadow and woods as a Site of Nature Conservation Importance (finally being considered five years after the nomination was lodged!).

Plants

This year, 101 plant species were recorded on the Meadow and in the woodland. Previous surveys in 2016 and 2020 found 230. The large drop in diversity is attributed to the very wet winter followed by the extended drought through spring and summer. We will carry the survey into next year to see whether diversity improves.

Butterflies

23 butterfly species have been recorded including two not seen previously – the Small Heath and the migratory Clouded Yellow. That's about half the total number found across Surrey. Given the afore-mentioned weather conditions, the number compares well with the 28 total species recorded between 2018 and 2025.

Insects

154 species were found this year. This is broadly the same diversity as was recorded in 2018, but interestingly many species found then were not seen this year whilst several new species were recorded. Our specialist noted ""The hot summer and drought is likely to have had an adverse effect on the insect fauna. Plants flowered and finished early, which will have made life difficult for pollinating insects. Dried up grasses and other plants are not good food for caterpillars and other phytophagous insects." We may well see a drop in butterfly, moth and other insect numbers next year.

NGP FACEBOOK GROUP

Membership of the Natural Goldsworth Park Facebook Group grew substantially over the summer and currently stands at 378. The Group page allows members to post photos of and comment on the plants and wildlife seen on Goldsworth Park and raise questions with our experts.

If you would like to join the Group, please visit https://www.facebook.com/groups/naturalgoldsworthpark, ensuring you complete the short membership questionnaire.

A personal view

Royer Slater

Who needs maps, now today's navigation tool of choice is the satnav? Well, me for one!

While a satnav is an easy and (usually) accurate way to get somewhere, it only tells you where you are and a route to a destination. It doesn't indicate what's beyond the route: the places, sights, scenes, amenities and curiosities in the landscape around you.

So, let's give a cheer for maps, those mesmerizing sheets of paper showing towns, roads, rivers, railways and much more!

Many growing up today may never experience the excitement and anticipation in spreading out paper OS maps to plan walks, cycle rides and car drives. OS maps reveal footpaths, tracks and roads. Contour lines show hills, valleys and mountains. Symbols indicate all manner of things from antiquities and landmarks to viewpoints and picnic places.

Ordnance Survey (OS) maps, in particular, were hugely important to our family's leisure life during decades of holidays and days out before the internet and satellite navigation arrived.

OS maps directed us to amazing places in our county and across the country. They guided us along footpaths and country lanes through gorgeous countryside, revealed breath-taking views and even led to us to discover landscape features left by our ancestors hundreds and even thousands of years ago.

OS maps covering Surrey and neighbouring areas were well-used friends after my wife and I moved to Woking, 43 years ago. They enabled us to explore the area all around us on foot, cycle and by car.

Before each UK holiday we either bought relevant OS maps or borrowed them from the library.

I bemoan my poor mobility which means it's no longer possible for me to walk the footpaths, tracks and trails marked on those trusty maps. Yet, just looking at them reminds me of places I've been to and sights I've seen. It also triggers memories of the satisfaction I felt then in using an OS map to plan a day out, of being able to "read" the landscape and what it contains, and the exhilaration of the journey itself. Studying an OS map can still hint at what I might see in places I've never visited.

Satnavs are fantastic things, but let's not forget maps! Even following maps in a motoring atlas as a passenger can elevate a tedious journey into an enjoyable experience: they indicate where you sit within the landscape around you, and how towns and villages relate to each other.

But why not take the next step? Instead of following the satnav's resolute, featureless line towards your destination, look on a map to see if there's a more interesting and enjoyable route through our beautiful, alluring countryside. Learning to read a map can take you on amazing journeys – and the satnav is still there if you get lost!

News from St Andrew's by Revd Scott Smith

Good News of Great Joy for Everyone

"Do not be afraid. I bring you good news that will cause great joy for all the people." (Luke 2:10)

These words, spoken to a group of shepherds on a hillside near Bethlehem, lie at the very heart of the Christmas story. They are words of reassurance, hope and joy. They are words too, that continue to speak to us today.

We live in uncertain times. There can be financial pressures, health concerns, family difficulties, loneliness or the ache for belonging. Even in a community where there is much kindness and generosity, life can sometimes feel overwhelming. Against this background, hear the angel's first words to the shepherds: "Do not be afraid."

The good news of Christmas is not that life suddenly becomes easy or that all our problems disappear. Instead, it is something far more profound.

God has come among us in the person of Jesus Christ.

This is the wonderful truth of Jesus' birth: in Jesus, God became human and entered into our world. Born as a vulnerable baby in humble surroundings, Jesus came not to remain distant from the realities of human life, but to share in them. He knew the joys of friendship, the pain of loss and the struggles of ordinary people. In Jesus, we discover a God who knows us, loves us, understands us and draws near to us.

Shepherds were ordinary working people, often overlooked by the powerful and privileged. Yet they were among the first people to hear this extraordinary news. The news of Jesus wasn't reserved for a select few; it was good news "for all the people".

That invitation remains at the heart of Christmas today.

Whatever our circumstances, background or beliefs, we are invited to consider the hope that Jesus brings. His life reveals a love that welcomes the stranger, cares for the vulnerable, forgives the repentant and offers a fresh start. His coming reminds us that every human life has dignity and value.

It's why this good news is worth celebrating.

As we celebrate this Christmas season then, may we find time amid the busyness to pause and rediscover the wonder of God's gift to us. The child of Bethlehem brings a hope that reaches beyond Christmas Day and a joy that can sustain us throughout the year.

The angel's message still speaks to us: do not be afraid. God is with us.

As you might expect, we're currently in the midst of our Christmas preparations, and through December we'll be gathering and celebrating together in lots of different ways.

You are warmly invited to join in. Please see the opposite page and pages 10 and 11 for details of our Christmas services and events.

In all our Christmas celebrations, we look to remind ourselves of the truth that whatever we face, whatever comes to pass, we are not alone – that we never have to face the hardest things in life alone.

Whatever this Christmas holds for you, (whether you celebrate or not), my prayer is that you might know that you are not alone, and that God loves you, is with you and is for you.

May you and all those you love know the blessing of Christ this Christmas and into the year ahead.

The most trusted name in Woking property

Seymours

We sold more homes in your area than every other agent combined.
That's not a coincidence. It's local knowledge, a proven process, and buyers who trust us to get deals done.

We still have active buyers looking for homes just like yours. If you're thinking of selling, a free, no-obligation valuation is the best place to start.
